Tollway Interchange OK Likely This Month

BY RICHARD CRABB

Final approval of a million dollar Arlington Heights tollway interchange may come before the end of this month.

And if the need comes, the interchange could be open for traffic by the summer of 1969.

This was the conclusion of the Friday meeting between members of the Miss Committee of the Village of Arlington Heights and the Illinois Tollway Commission that now will make its formal recommendation to Chairman Donald R. Bonnell and the commission.

The proposed interchange would provide an eastbound approach at Arlington Heights Rd. and a westbound exit at the tollway onto Arlington Heights Rd.

THE NEXT MEETING of the commission is scheduled for May 31 in room 909 at the Marina in Chicago Loop. It is open to the public. Dr. Carl Miles and members of his committee plan to attend.

The weekend conference between the village committee and the tollway staff was presided over jointly by Dr. Miles and the senior engineer for the tollway system, Ernest Benowitz.

The conference also was attended by Mayor John G. Woods, Village Manager L. A. Hanson, Prof. Carl M. Laren of the University of Illinois -- who made the original interchange study for the Miss Committee -- Mayor Jack Pahl of Elk Grove Village, Rep. Eugene F. Schickman (R-Arlington Heights), Eugene Chapman (D-Arlington Heights) and David J. Regan (R-Mount Prospect), and Sen. John Graham (R-Barrington).

Benowitz told the assembled group that the tollway engineers plan to reconstruct building the interchange. The recommendation would be submitted to the commission Wednesday to give them time to study the matter before the May 31 meeting.

HE POINTED out the feasibility studies for the interchange made by Prof. Laren and those made by traffic consultants and engineers, Wilbur Smith and Associates of New Haven, Conn., substantially were in agreement.

"WHEN we built the toll road originally, we changed its order in order to cut down the time it would take to build the interchange. We have had much experience with such things," said Benowitz.

Both studies indicated the commission would get its money back, including interest, in not less than 15 years.

Adding to the effectiveness of the study was the fact that the money was based on two entirely different techniques, he said.

Mrs. Chapman asked if the new interchange would disturb the historic corner located immediately south of the tollway and immediately east of Arlington Heights Rd.

Two veterans of the Revolutionary War are buried in that cemetery and the citizens of the area would be greatly disturbed should it be necessary to infringe on the cemetery property, she said.

Benowitz replied that the cemetery would be protected by the interchange. The cemetery entrance would continue to be off Arlington Heights Rd.

THE ADDITIONAL tollway revenue resulting from the interchange from the interchange from 1969 to 1980 will amount to $1,500,000. The cost of building the interchange is estimated at $1,200,000.

A decrease is projected for the next two years as a result of the new I-90 being completed to the Northwest Tollway at Palatine, 1960, which connects with the Loop via the Eisenhower expressway is expected to take some of the traffic off the Northwest Tollway.

Additional traffic to the Arlington Heights ramp in 1970 is projected to drop by 24,000 to 224,500.

A recovery to 201,000 is projected for 1971. The ramp traffic in 1972 is projected to reach a new high of 308,000 additional cars.

Benowitz said that occurring land for the interchange would be the most time consuming task. Final plans have not been drawn, and cannot be until after the commission approves the project, so the engineer estimated that work could begin early in 1969 and require no more than six months to complete. This would indicate a completion date late in the summer or early in the fall next year.

Norman Westfall, member of the South Firm, told the conference that the additional tollway revenue resulting from the interchange from 1969 to 1980 will amount to $1,500,000. The cost of building the interchange is estimated at $1,200,000.

A 'Complete Interchange' Needed: Woods

Estimates of added tollway traffic and revenue from one building of an Arlington Heights toll interchange are "extremely conservative," and the community is disappointed the plans provide for only a partial toll interchange, Arlington Heights Mayor John G. Woods told tollway engineers Friday.

Population expansion in this section of the northwest suburbs is one of the most rapid ever reported in the United States. The usual forecasting techniques are not adequate to project accurately the area's future needs, he claimed.

Woods said he hoped that as the need for more ramps increased, they will be added.

"I think the Wilbur Smith and Associates traffic and revenue projections are very conservative. The toll project is a complete interchange, and the project having to do with partial interchange in the Arlington Heights area have proven to be in the area of what actually happened."

Woods claimed that traffic jams during rush hours are of record proportions, in keeping with the population expansion.

He mentioned the traffic tie-ups that each day occur on Illinois 62, 72, 56 and Arlington Heights Rd. as being some of the worst in the entire area.

These are the jams which would be relieved by the building of an Arlington Heights interchange, he said.

Dr. Carl Miles, University of Illinois economist who directed the Miss Committee survey to support the building of an Arlington Heights interchange, called attention to a study conducted in the tollway.

"The tollway faces an opportunity which will be raised once, if not more, during the 15-year payment period. Consider how that will speed the payoff," said Laren.

Woods said he hoped that as the need for more ramps increased, they will be added.

Warning Hopscotch Playing Lawbreakers

Parsons, if you child plays hopscotch on the sidewalk, she is violating a village ordinance.

He also is violating an ordinance if he plays basketball in the roadway.

L. W. Caldwellhead, Arlington Heights police chief, said the department has been receiving numerous reports from residents that children are playing in the street and blocking sidewalks.

The play is hazardous for both the children and the drivers of cars who are forced to slow down while interrupting the play, he said.

SECTION 26-215 of the village code states: "It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation, to permit any child, adolescent or other public person to play in the street or on any public street, or to interfere with traffic or pedestrian."

"It shall be unlawful to play in the street or on any public street, or to interfere with traffic or pedestrian."

80% of Parishioners Oppose Busing, Survey Shows

Residents of St. Raymond's parish, 313 S. 104th, are opposed overwhelmingly to the Chicago archdiocese busing Negro children to all-white schools.

The opposition came from a survey sponsored by a church committee.

However, the sponsors say that the answer "should not be interpreted as being against Negro children in the schools," according to a report on the study published in the church bulletin.

"This high percentage is against busing because they think it is impractical, class are too crowded already, or that church funds will be used to support this program," says the report.

The report goes on to point out that there is no waiting list in the local parish school -- and that the busing is to be supported with voluntary contributions rather than with church funds.

Four of every five parishioners who responded to the survey are opposed to the busing plan.

Two copies of the survey were sent to some 2,000 homes, and 1,200 copies were returned. The 1,200 returns represent the opinions of 1,571 adults, since some were filled out by more than one person.

IN ANSWER to the question, "Do you favor or oppose busing?" 55 per cent of those who voted yes, 32 per cent voted no, 11 per cent did not answer.

Youths Get Newspaper at Knife-Point

A Day carrier boy told Arlington Heights police Friday that he had been threatened by several teenagers with a knife.

The older boys got out of a car, walked up to him and took a newspaper from him, the carrier said.

The youth showed police a portfolio with a mark on it that police said may have been made by a knife.

The incident occurred Friday afternoon on Mitchell St. The carrier boy said a beer can fell from the car when the older boys got into it and drove away.

The boy gave police a description of the older youths and the car they were driving.

Negro, White Students Trade Views in High School Panel

BY BETSY BROOKER

"Black power means we have the power to control our lives—black awareness," exclaimed a Chicago Negro high school student Friday.

The state 30 of her classmates discussed the difference between Negro and white high schools.

The Negro students are members of the Hirsch High School Human Relations Club that was invited by sociology department faculty members to spend the day touring the school and community.

The invitation, extended by Richard Carlson and Ed Bauman, was in exchange for a visit Prospect sociology students made at Hirsch in February during a "Negro Life in Chicago" tour sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

After spending most of the day together in classes and in a tour of Mount Prospect, the Prospect and Hirsch students met for a discussion.

Harper College may add a one-year program for training practical nurses to its curriculum.

Harper now has a two-year nursing program in which graduates, as registered nurses, receive an Associate Degree.

Malcolm MacCoun, Northwest Community Hospital administrator, Thursday asked the Harper board of education to approve a training program that would add a one-year program for training practical nurses to its curriculum.

Previously, the licensed practical nurses at the hospital were trained in a program at Mount Tabor Hospital and sponsored by the federal Manpower Development Program.

In the four years that the nursing program has been in operation at Mount Tabor Hospital, it has had difficulty securing funds from the Manpower Development Program.

The problem now is that these funds have been stopped almost completely and the hospital has been forced to stop the training program.

Hospital officials hope to ship the lack of funds to increased distribution in more disadvantaged areas.

Harper officials hope to add a two-year program, but administrators could not add the program without the federal Manpower Development Program.

Another factor to be considered is the possible joining of Harper and Niles townships into a junior college district.

In the need for practical nurse training programs as great as the one at Harper, the Harper board of education is now considering the possibility of joining Harper and Niles townships into a junior college district.

More Car Backups Possible

A traffic backup worse than the one that already occurred at the Kirchoff-Central-Dunton intersection on the south side of Arlington Heights.

That is what may come of a state decision to widen Arlington Heights Rd. at Central, according to Charles Tower of the village engineering department.

The state will make a right turn lane for southbound traffic at the busy intersection, and if the village does not get improvements designed to ease traffic flow at the Kirchoff-Central-Dunton intersection before the state finishes its improvements, backup of cars will be intolerable, Tower said the State Commission Monday.

He said that the village intends to change Kirchoff Road's path to come at right angles to Central, to small signals, and better lighting for the area.

Tower also told the commissioners that funds had been scheduled in the village's annual improvement plan for 1969-70 to widen Euclid Ave. at the Arlington Heights Rd. intersection "about 300 feet back," to allow turns to be made more efficiently.

This proposal will not be definite until the 1969-70 budget is approved next year, and also is subject to state approval.

"We will attempt to get it approved this coming winter," he said. "I should have been done immediately. I don't know why it wasn't."

New traffic signals are being planned for Northwest Hwy. Tower continued. At the Euclid and Davis intersections with Northwest Hwy., traffic signals must be installed and new lighting fixtures are started. They will be mounted 45 feet in the air and will cost about $85,000.

Other traffic signals along the highway will be modernized so as to comply with state regulations. The new signals will hang on poles. They also will have five direction signals, including right and left turn signals.

Sanitary Report Says Villages Lack Adequate Sewers

BY DIANNE DORAN

Officials of the Metropolitan Sanitary District have admitted that several northwest suburban communities do not have adequate sewer systems, even though permits are being issued for new construction. According to a report released Monday by the Sanitary District, the communities named in the report, near Mount Prospect are Arlington Heights, Plainfield, Wheeling and Oak Park.

Mount Prospect Mayor Daniel Congreve said that adequate sewer systems cannot be built because, even if an adequate system were constructed in this municipality, the system downstream of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect couldn't handle the flow anyway. Congreve said the sanitary district is the entity responsible for the situation.

Board members Leni Corman, Frank Berges and Ethel Beal were appointed to an administrative salary committee to study with at least one administrator for determining next year's salaries is incomplete and temporary.

Public Schools Facing Annual Teacher Crisis

BY RICHARD CRABB

Arlington Heights Public School District 25 is one of several school districts in the northwest suburbs that this spring must hire more than 100 new teachers.

High School District 214 of Wheeling and Elk Grove townships, Grade School District 15 of Rolling Meadows and Palmdale and Grade School District 59 that serves the southern sections of Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect and Elk Grove Village are other districts that will need 100 or more new teachers for the coming school year.

In each of these districts, hiring new teachers requires the time of one administrator working as a director of personnel, assisted by other administrators, except in the case of the Arlington Heights Village Board of Trustees.

The agenda included proposed changes in the zoning ordinance to regulate the size and type of firms and a request by Henry Hultman to reduce back yard requirements for an industrial area next to a residential area. Building Commissioner Harold Best told Trustees Frank Polesnik, John White and Charles Bennett that residents are not abiding by the present regulations on fences.

It is difficult to catch the violations and often he is not aware of a fence construction until a neighbor calls the village. Best said.

The commissioner said that he receives as many as 20 calls a week inquiring about the fence regulations in the village.

- Starting business.

- Returning to school to work on an advanced degree.

The developer, Kenroy Builders of Chicago, originally asked the Plan Commission to consider reducing the requirements for a 75-foot rear yard to 50 feet.

The 500 affected by the reduction border proposed residential development in the north end of the Barkley Square subdivision.

Members of the legal committee recommended the reduction but added the requirement that a six-foot fence be part of the 50-foot rear yard.

The "buffer" area would provide for residential property owners not having a parking lot or area of garbage cans immediately shading back yards.

Dialogue

...with George Hamilton

"Yes, I'm the one who wrote the column about President Johnson, reporting the suggestion made by a Federal employee that LBJ stayed in office just long enough to have his daughters married off. We do you say?"

"Well, anyone who thinks the President of these well fought for United States stayed in office until his daughters were married off in the White House has not the best interests of his country at heart and should not write such a serious column."

"That's the break of the game, I guess. Nobody takes my serious column seriously. So I write one about something I don't know anything about and you say it's a serious column."

"President Johnson has made a noble decision to run for office to satisfy this country, which is our primary reason for any election in this country."

"Perhaps. Where were you when I reported way last November that LBJ might not run again for the presidency?" "At some the President's decision was made for me to accept. Perhaps no one you know would do something so unselfish."

"Oh, I don't know about that. What about myself? I made the decision LBJ did, not to run for the presidency."

"Any official who tries to gain support for his party or himself by dawdling, saying some calling or damaging another's character is not to be trusted either."

"Right. I believe I trust any one of those dirty, rotten name callers. Say, I'm getting the impression I'm not getting through to you. Have you heard a word I have said?" "You used to have a remarkably excellent on your paper."

"I guess I'm really not getting through to you."

"That other columnist would be smiling. He would never say the things about President Johnson that you have."

"He didn't know him as well as I do. My family tangled with LBJ long before the country knew of him."

"That other columnist was a good writer. I always read his column every day. I'll never forget who?" "You'll never forget who?" "He was, uh, whatchaname?"

DOCTOR SAYS

Operations on the Aged Use Improved Techniques

W. C. BRANDTADT, M.D.

As a result of the ever increasing advances in medical science there is an ever greater number of persons who are surviving past age 65. Such persons often need surgical operations. Whereas, in the past, operation on elderly persons was limited to life-saving emergencies, they are now undertaken for all types of surgical conditions with confidence in their success. This change in attitude has been brought about by better knowledge of the normal physiology of the aged, better surgical technique and modern drugs.

Two or three centuries ago, it was common to observe senility in persons who were in their early 60s. In any era some persons reach senility at a much earlier age than others. This is because it is the disease one possesses, not the number of years, that gives one the appearance of being old.

When an elderly person needs an operation, therefore, the surgeon's first duty is to determine how well the body is functioning. This is especially important as regards his heart and blood vessels. Clots will be furnished by the electrocardiogram, blood pressure and pulse rate. A chest X ray, measurement of lung capacity, electroencephalogram and test of liver and kidney function are also important.

When these tests indicate that the operation can be safely undertaken, the question of an anesthetic arises. Here again, great advances have been made in recent years. Respiratory complications have been avoided by giving the anesthetic through a tube introduced into the windpipe and by greater use of local or spinal anesthesia. Lowering the patient's body temperature also has certain advantages. Whenever possible, it is a great boon to an elderly patient if general anesthesia is performed in his home instead of a hospital. "Although the wars are caused by a virus, they are not contagious. Your doctor can destroy them with an electric needle, freezing with dry ice or local applications of salicylic or trichloroacetic. ## Art Show Invitation

By Catherine O'Donnell

Stapletons attend South Arlington High School. Michael is in the eighth grade, Stephen is in the seventh and James, Jr., is in the sixth. The family moved here from 3, Kilian Park in Chicago last October.

SWINGING GIG-SCOUTS 11 will be a d d to remember for the Girl Scouts of Troop 341 who will hold the end of the year party at after school. They invited their mothers to be their guests. They have also invited the 10-member Girl Scout Troop 172.

Scott leader Joan Bright and her team of girls are not the least bit worried about the entertainment for the party of 90. One thing led to another. Because the girls have been very interested in promoting World Friendship, they have also invited three foreign exchange students from Arlington High School to be their special company. The young girls are Christina Hamming from Austria, Barbara Duster from Holland and Pauline Rotha from South Africa. They will show slides and tell about life in their countries.

After the Troop 341 party, they will be entertained for dinner.

Christa will be the home of the Dwight Cooks on St. Paul, Minnesota. Pauline will dine with the James Ball family of St. Paul. The dinner guest of the Jack Nystrom of St. Paul. Another special guest of the party will be Miss Janet Donovan who teaches at Weigand and is a native of Chicago.

The festivities will be capped with a presentation of a check for $30 to Mrs. Daisy Dastale for the Arlington Heights. Tomorrow if the youngsters remember, they can see an early "Happy Birthday" to Mrs. Dastale who will celebrate her birthday on Thursday. Mrs. Dastale is one of those women who carry the bloom and enthusiasm of youth with them always. The number of years is not a great deal. Have fun all you girls.

Prospect, Wheeling Advance in District Baseball

Gumz, Knights Trim Cards on 3-Run 7th

BY RALPH GAMMILL

Prospect, the visiting team on its home field, belted out a fast-timing 3-1 win over the Cardinals of Arlington Monday in the opening game of the Prospect District of the state baseball tournament.

Jim Gumz, outfielder of the Knights' stick-fielding first baseman, was called on to start the game on the mound for coach Larry McMahon. Gumz responded with a sizzling, one-hit stint against the Cards. It was his second starting job assignment in a week. The last time against St. Victor, he gave up three hits in taking a win.

GUMZ ALSO is a junior of some merit, and proved it Monday by slugging a triple and a single, scoring a run and driving in two others in the top of the seventh to give the Knights a 2-1 lead.

With Gumz pitching, back Leonard was moved in from the outfield to play a creditable game at first base, and junior Dave Somers, the son of Arlington coach Frank Somers, started in right field.

THINGS LOOKED good for the Cubs up until the seventh. They were leading 1-0, and although they had just hit to their credit, it was a double and had scored their run. Prospect had had two baserunners, all of which reached scoring position, but could bring in no run.

Except for four errors, Arlington was in command of the game until the final inning. Card left fielder Kerry Kall scored in the fourth after receiving a free pass from Gumz, who had a tough time keeping the ball in the strike zone. Nine Cardinals batters had three-ball counts going for them in the game, though only four walked.

Kall scored three pitches after his walk as busy right fielder Bob Miller batted a single to left and stretched the hit to three bases, as the relay threw was sent to the plate in hopes of cutting down Kall.

Cardinal pitcher Gary Anderson gave up only four hits in the first six innings. Two of them were triples, but the runners advanced no further as Anderson retired the side once with a fly out to left, and once with two in field outs.

THE SEVENTH, however, was a different story. Six out of seven line drive to center that hung enough for Keith Culleton to go in for the first out. But the next man up, Jim Carroll, who has begun to put his bat to work in the last few games, singled over the shortstop's head, and Mike Neideman replied him in a double to right.

With runners at first and second, Jim Carroll pitched to third on Somers' second safety against his father's team.

'Cats Get 5 Gift Runs, Win for Muelhausen

BY RALPH NOVAK

Wheeling overpowered five gift runs in the eighth inning Monday to make Jim Muelhausen's Cardinals win 5-0 for a sixth win over Deerfield in the opening game of the Lake Forest district tournament district.

The victory earned Wheeling a spot in the district final Wednesday against the winner of today's Highland Park-Lake Forest game.

THE WILDCATS, after touching Deerfield starter Scott Brewster for only one hit through seven innings, scored five runs on five walks, an error and two hits, both of which took a little more time to drive in the batsmen than they did in the game.

Muehausen, who no-hit the Warriors 2-0 in Wheeling's season opener.

Donahue Story Is Corrected

A Day story last week on former St. Victor pitcher and Jerry Donahue contained two factual errors.

The story incorrectly said Donahue pitched one-third of an inning in his first professional game with the Quincy Braves. He pitched one and one-third of an inning.

Donahue, who was in the second inning after chocking off an opposition rally to relief in the first.

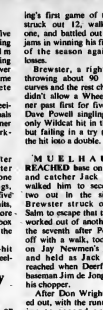

In two appearances after his 1968 debut, Donahue pitched twice for the Cubs without allowing a run.

The story also was in error in calling Donahue a professional. He appeared in four games for Caldwell of the Pioneer League last summer after signing with the Cubs.

Knights Golf Past Fremd For 5th Win

Prospect's head golf coach, Mike Nisen, may have a pair of champions this spring in golf. After a 157-162 win over Fremd Monday, the Knight varsity is 9-1 for the year and 6-0 in the Mid-Suburban League.

The frosh-soph squad is 10-0 after a 165-163 win Monday. Both will have to face Arlington before the season ends, however.

The varsity lone man against the Vikings was Scott Crawford with a 37 for the nine hole course while Bruce Timko came in second with a 39. Mike Strain of Fremd shot a 39 while team-mate John Lynch and Bruce Reiter of Prospect shot 40s.

The Knights got good support from their fourth and fifth men as both Steve Orrell and Mike Harris shot 42s. Buzz Daugherty of Fremd had 44, but from there the scores went up.

The Prospect on cardmen kept their conference record intact at 6-0. Al Macchett and Dave Harlow shooting 40s while Art Hagg had a 41. Kim Waller of John Trandell had 44 and 45.

Wayne Meier was one of Four Forest View golfers who shot 44s Monday as the Falcons earned their second Mid-Suburban League win, 176-190 over Palatine.

Four Falcon 44s Send Palatine to Golf Defeat

Four 44s shot by Fred Lausing, Steve Brown, Ben Koptewicz, and Wayne Meier propelled Forest View to a 176-190 Mid-Suburban League golf win over Palatine County Club.

The victory was the Falcons' second in five MSL matches, while the Pirates are now 0-6. Ray Draga was low for Palatine with a 46.

Fremd View also won the frosh-soph match, 185-225.

Palatine Rally Shocks Arlington

BY TOM WALSH
A last-inning error and a misjudged line drive sent Arlington to its third straight varsity baseball thumping. Palatine edged the host Knight Friday, 4-3.

SOPHOMORE HURLER Jim Bokeman went into the seventh inning with a 3-1 lead, and a two-hit performance on the line. He yielded a single to the first man he faced, but cut him down at second as the next Pirate batted bounced in to a fielder's choice.

Another fielder's choice sent Palatine's Chris Andriano on first base and Bokeman out away from his third MSL.

win. Third baseman Scott Smith also bounced into a fielder's choice opportunity, but Arlington second baseman Doug Somers bobbled the bounce, leaving both Palatine and Smith on base.

Another fielder's choice sent Palatine's Chris Andriano on first base and Bokeman out away from his third MSL.

Tripled by Jim Kenny and

Dave Armstrong, a double by Craig Cochran, and a deep sacrifice fly off the bat of loser Bokeman provided the Cards with their three runs.

'Kits Rock Cards, 4-1, In Tennis

Evaston Township gave Arlington its second straight tennis title Monday, defeating the district champion Cardinals, 4-1.

The Wildcats' no. 1 singles regular, Mike Madara, disposed of Arlington's Bill Von Bookman, 6-1, 6-2, giving Von Bookman his third loss of the season and first since the Cards' third match.

Bob Reimer romped past Arlington's Matt Weg at no. 2, 6-1, 6-1, and Jack Weems took Bob Crockett at no. 3, 6-1, 6-1.

Only Kim Jorgenson and Greg Harris salvaged a victory for Arlington, stopping Dan Robin and Phil Thompson, 6-0, 6-2 at no. 1 doubles in a comeback from their loss Friday in the New Trier East win over the Cards. Rick Whittington and Bob Thompson battled past Bill Steiling and Paul Stevens at no. 2 doubles, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4 for Evaston's fourth point.

New Trier E Hands 2nd Dual Loss to Cards

Champaign-bound Arlington came face-to-face with New Trier East, another Illinois tennis powerhouse, Friday, and the Indians won both the varsity match, 4-1.

ARLINGTON'S Bill Von Bookman, manning the no. 1 singles spot, was the only Cardinal winner. Von Bookman handled Brian Hewitt in two sets, the first a grueling 10-8 effort and the second an endurance test performance.

At the no. 2 solo level, Miles Harris, one of the Indians' five state qualifiers, thumped Matt Weg, the only Arlington player not coping a state championship berth, 6-3, 6-3. New Trier's Dave Brown rallied the no. 3 spot, 6-2, 6-3, over Bob Crockett.

After Muehausen forced Bell on a sacrifice attempt, Jim Wheeler smashed a liner through the box, but centerfielder Jim Milley cut down Bell trying to take third. ## Village Officials Blast Annex Plan to be recognized. At the conclusion of the business before the council, Meyers asked the councilmen to interrupt the agenda so that Mayor Woods might be heard.

WOODS RESPONDED by introducing the other officials of Arlington Heights.

Officials attending were Trustees John J. Walsh, Frank Palminter, John F. White,

Charles Bennett and Village Manager L. A. Hanson. Woods said, "We of Arlington Heights are deeply concerned about the development of the Iannotti-Parker tract on the southwestern boundary of our village. We have prepared a statement dealing with our concern. Since our council has postponed consideration of the matter, I will not take time to read our communication, but will leave it with you."

The Woods statement began by explaining his village's concern, saying "It has come to the attention of the Village Board of the Village of Arlington Heights that the City of Rolling Meadows is considering the annexation of a 118-acre tract of land adjacent to the east boundary of the city between Algonquin and Coal Run. We also understood that the developer has requested that about 100 acres of this property be zoned for R-6, multi-family, purposes. Under the provisions of the Rolling Meadows Zoning Ordinance, this would permit the development of approximately 20 units of multiple dwellings per acre."

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS has sent a letter of protest to the city of Rolling Meadows in all other efforts fail. He said, "We have hesitated to resort to the courts in order to sustain the integrity of our planning for the peripheral area. As a matter of fact, we now have three cases pending in the Circuit Court to test what we regard as unwise zoning decisions on our part of the County of Cook.

"We emphasize this past pattern so that you gentlemen may be reminded of the consistent pattern which resulted in protecting not only our village but the village of Rolling Meadows as well from undesirable and deteriorative influences.

Woods said that a density of 20 units an acre would result in serious school busing, flooding hazards and traffic problems and that the character of the community would be changed. He said that his village had expected that the Parker tract would be annexed to Arlington Heights.

He said, "We always have considered that the property in question is an integral part of the future development of the Village of Arlington Heights. The area is served by a school district which is devoted to the protection of residents of the Village of Arlington Heights. Our planning of this area is a reality installation encompass this area. We have been working to bring the area under the jurisdiction of Arlington Heights and Rolling Meadows, the developers of the single-family residential area north of Oak Forest, including 540,000 to 550,000 single-family homes, has been predicated upon the eventual annexation and development of this tract to the Village of Arlington Heights.

In closing, Woods said Rolling Meadows to reject annexation of the Parker tract.

Lawyer: Expect Park Building Costs to Rise

BY MAXINE TYNA
Arlington Heights Park District Commissioners last night approved a budget of more than $300,000, and granted substantial salary increases to their officers and personnel.

But the seemingly-adequate financial bubble burst when Charles Bobette, the district's attorney, told the commissioners to expect a 25 per cent increase in construction costs when making plans for park development.

The total estimated expenditures for the 1968-69 fiscal year in the budget include $78,750 for bonds and interest; $45,050 for buildings; $133,450 for grounds; $12,400 for construction; $55,675 for administration; $166,475 for recreation, and $4,500 for insurance.

OFFICERS of the park district who were granted raises were Thomas Thornton, Carl Scheske, and Charles Bobette.

Thornton, an employee of the district for 15 years, received an $1,100 raise to bring his salary to $14,500. He also serves as secretary to the board of commissioners and was voted a $1,000 raise to bring that salary to $700.

Bobette has served as attorney for the park district for 14 years and will receive a $1,600 raise for the fiscal year, compared to a previous $1,200.

Scheske has been treasurer for the park district for 13 years and received a $1,000 raise which brings his salary to $14,000.

Commissioner voted Wm. DeMarree Sankel, superintendent of recreation, a salary of $9,250, which was $250 more than the recommended wage increase.

Richard Johnson, superintendent of maintenance received an $800 raise which brings his total salary to $10,800.

Miss Sunkel has been employed by the district for almost four years and Johnson for 11 years.

MAINTENANCE employees received wage increases from $330 to $728 a year based on job positions and years with the district.

After the commissioners approved the financial business they were told to expect an increase in cost estimates for future buildings.

The original cost estimates, used to prepare material on a proposed referendum, were based on 1965 figures. Thornton told the commissioners that he increased the costs by 10 per cent only.

when preparing material for a proposed $2.6 million referendum.

Commissioners have no formal action on a referendum for improvement and development of park facilities but a $2.6 million figure has been discussed.

Probably included in the referendum would be a $700,000 indoor swimming pool at Arlington High School, Thornton said pool consultants, L.S. Hubbard & Associates used current figures when making the estimate on the indoor facility.

Clearbrook Center to Pick Directors
The annual meeting of the general membership of the Clearbrook Center for the Battered and Biting Meadows will be held May 21 at 8 p.m. at the Center building, 5201 W. Campbell.

Direction will be elected to fill vacancies in the classes of 1969, 1970, and 1971. All the voting members of the Center organization must be present at the meeting. Ballots will be counted, according to a recent board decision.

Bobette also said that the skilled trades are asking a 30 to 40 per cent increase in salaries.

"Our cost estimates are not realistic then," said Thornton.

HE SAID he met with Joe L. Bennett, Arlington Heights architect, who is being considered as architect for the new construction.

Bennett told Thornton that he has raised his fee from 6 per cent to 8 per cent of the total building cost for architectural fees.

Thornton said he was told by the architect that he would receive a 6 per cent fee for doing "home town" work. The park district is in the process of making other architects to estimate fees for proposed building projects.

Bennett told Thornton that about five years ago he was able to construct the Arlington Heights Municipal Building for $400,000. He said he has finished the architectural work for a building similar to the one in Arlington Heights but the current cost is $1 million.

A trip to Yulem, a walled city that is one of the largest Mayan ruins restored to date, also has been scheduled.

AT WIT'S END

Marriage experts have always contended the most crucial span of a marriage is the first five years. I never knew why until this year. Neither party wants custody of a teen-ager.

Many parents tell me they have tried, without success, to communicate with their youngsters and have made great efforts to understand them. My problem is the reverse. My teen-agers are forever nagging me, telling me what to do. They try to draw me into conversation to discuss my problems. When I close my bedroom door, they interfere with my privacy. They borrow my clothes and want to be a pal to me. They tell me how to fix my hair, what clothes to buy and when I may have the car, and they insist on knowing whom I am talking on the telephone. They correct my grammar in front of my friends.

I'VE TRIED TO TELL THEM there is a generation gap. I don't care if my complexion breaks out from too much chocolate or if I don't have something special to wear for Saturday night. I have my own life to lead. But they refuse to treat me as an adult.

Take the other day. I was headed for the store.

"Mother!" screamed my daughter. "You're not going out in a white skirt!"

with Erma Bombeck
ends (or yourself!)

"All my friends wear them," I said helplessly.

"You're not your friends," she said. "You're you! Why don't you wear those little nylon footies I got you for Christmas? And what's with your eyes? You've got too much makeup on them. You look like you're having a migraine."

"What makeup?" I sighed. "I am having a migraine."

""IF YOU'D GET more sleep," she sighed. "You are Daddy out in the middle of the week until 2 a.m. I've read stories about those adult parties and I worry about you and Dad. You can't keep on like this. You'll end up like Susan Hayward."

"If I do, I'll wire you an itinerary."

"She has too much spending money of her own and enough responsibility. Besides, did you know she's a League member?"

LAYER, I MET Haas in the parking lot. "I shouldn't have seen talking with you," she whispered. "My children think you are going to pot because you don't wear a girdle during the week. I told them I was going to the library to read U.S. News and World Report."

"Why can't our children just accept us for what we are?" sighed Hazel.

A Joke Once, Now Paper Is High Fashion

BY MARILYN HELFERS

It used to be called paper. Now it's known as "non-woven fabric."

It used to be worn once and thrown away, now you can wash it and even wear it swimming.

Today's fashions offer something for everyone. All are washable, and lightweight, easily packed for travel.

The material in these creations is used for everything from packaging light bulbs to throw-away dust cloths.

If you have to mend one, reach for your handy roll of cellophane tape.

If you need to shorten one, get out your scissors and cut away. They're even cool and comfortable for the summer.

The fashions shown here were part of a show co-ordinated by Betty Cairl for the Flying Carpet. The creations were designed by Jita Merson of Wilmette for the Patio Shop in Highland Park.

—Lounge leisurely at home in your paper jumpsuit ... black and white striped, at $5; or entertain in a gold paper jumpsuit, at $10.

—For the hostess at home ... a silver paper wrap-around, at $8.

—All ready for summer storms in this poly-coated paper raincoat with its military influence in stripes of brown, cocoa cream and blue, $8.50.

—Coffee and ... served in a Japanese style robe in bright orange, blue, green, yellow and red, $4.50.

—It's cool, it's comfortable ... and it's paper. Brown, white and yellow daisies are accented with white flowing sleeves.

What Does Your Child Need?

BY GERRY WALSH

Mothers today are constantly concerned about the multitude of things that their children need. Every mother is deluged with advice as to what the child must have.

For example, baby needs a room of his own, an extensive mattress, diaper service, formulae service, baby photographs, a top pediatrician, a dresser full of new clothes, a play pen, a jumper-chair, potty chair, bathmat, baby-carriage, stroller, chest of toys, etc., etc.

All are great ... but you know what? Me, your darling, doesn't have to have any of those things.

HE HAS NEEDS however, real psychological needs.

New Fabric

he must have, and that you can't deny. Other parents meet the above list 100 per cent often with some strain on the budget and then continue to follow this collection with years more of having "necessities."

Somewhere in the "buy, buy" shuffle they forget what the child really needs.

There are basic human needs that you must find listed in child psychology books; but you are not reminded of them daily as you are of physical needs. The "bad-dad poem" tells you loud and clear exactly what your child "must" have.

HE NEEDS to be loved and to love, also he needs to belong; whether he is 6 months or 16 years.

He needs to achieve no matter what his age. Do you enthusiastically praise his every success? Praise is more nourishing than cookies.

He needs security, emotional, spiritual and financial. This is a big order and you have to have it to give it.

He needs to be valued as a person, cherished for himself, and made to feel important.

THESE NEEDS must be met constantly, day after day. If you are not aware of them, your child will not grow and develop into a mature, well-balanced adult. Keep fulfilling the basic needs—then you may say, buy, buy.

A child who is loved and cherished will never be told that he is "dumb" or "stupid" or "bad." What possible good will be accomplished by marking down a vulnerable little child? Yes, we all see it done, by well-meaning parents, who should know better.

He needs discipline, guidance and control. We must say often: "I don't like what you are doing. I will not allow you to do it."

INTERESTED with the firm discipline, you must say often: "I love you. I care about everything that happens to you. I love you very great."

Auction Sun.

For further information call Mrs. Lawrence Excell, TW 4-3072.

Another thing we must say or convey is, "We need you; you are an important part of this family."

As a former nursery-school teacher, I remember one of my children, beautiful, delicate, Sandra Jones, she was a intelligent, little child, a 4-year-old, "impossible" that none of the staff could cope with her. In desperation, I referred her intelligent mother to an excellent child psychiatrist.

Patton Teacher Appreciation Tea

Parents will have an opportunity to thank the teachers of Patton School at a Teacher Appreciation Tea from 3:45 p.m. to 5 p.m., Thursday, May 16 given by the PTA.

New PTA officers for 1969 will be installed by Mrs. J. R. Walsh, outgoing president. They are Mrs. Robert Fischer, president; Mrs. Jack Adkins, 1st vice president; Mrs. Alfred Laubacher, 2d vice president; Mrs. Wm. Sorenson, secretary; Mrs. Rodney Peterson, treasurer.

One visit, one sentence of advice to her distraught mother, was almost like a prescription.

"Hold her in your arms every day, every four hours, and tell her that you love her."

Seems too simple—but it worked, in 30 days Sandra was one of the happiest, and cooperative children in the school.

Try fulfilling basic needs. Love teaches love. It works.

Citizen committees have been given a new status by the District 214 Board of Education.

Board members agreed Monday night that a citizens committee will be formed to study the need for additional facilities in the district, prior to any decision made by the board.

mittae was formed in the district after the board had decided to construct another school. The role of the committee was to assist board members in deciding particular points in the overall construction.

"IN THIS WAY the committee will not just be a rubber stamp approval of the board's action," explained administrative assistant Jack

Martin.

"This does not mean that committees haven't been helpful in the past. The Harsey committee almost three years ago was very influential in the decisions not to have a larger gymnasium or a swimming pool at the school," said member Arthur E. Aronson.

"The new role of the citizens committee will be in an advisory capacity.

Members of the committee will be involved in primary leadership," said Martin.

"The committee will help the community to become more involved in and more interested in the district's welfare," added Martin.

THE COMMITTEE will include persons appointed by area civic organizations, persons nominated by the board, and persons who volunteer.

An immediate task of the committee will be to decide if an additional school is needed in the district. According to school officials, projected costs of operating the district necessitate developing some means in the

Psychedelic "PAINT IN!"

OPEL

To see which school
oozes more art!

PROSPECT HIGH or ARLINGTON HEIGHTS

When these eminently artistic contemporary high school impressionists "dip in" for a "paint in," you'll think it was an explosion at the Opel paint factory! For two days you will be showing YOU there's really no pain in painting — not when you spread it the easy new modern way! Yes folks, the contest to see which of the two area high schools, Prospect or Arlington Heights, oozes more art is on now at Randhurst where the winning Opel entry (yes, they'll be painting Opels) will also be on display for one week following to the public. Come watch the fun and excitement . . . live and in full color!

The colors couldn't possibly be "painted in" . . . or even shown . . . in this ad. For where in the world would we get fire-engine red, bitter-sweet, rust-cream, mauve, glaucous . . . or pink trying to be purple?

For a deal-rioso deal on Opel, get John Mufich Buick's "500" deal! On now!

Tasty Summer Recipes

BY MARILYN HELPERS
Woman's Editor

Our early balmy summer weather sent us in search of some summer recipes. With the aid of leading chefs who are preparing for the Concept in Food Show that begins Sunday at the Palmer House, we found them.

Chef Otto Schickler, consulting chef for Griffith Laboratories, President of the Executive Chefs Association and captain of the Illinois State Culinary Olympians team, we have a recipe for any who lucky enough to catch a Cobi Salmon. (If you don't catch one you can purchase it at the grocery store.) This recipe is a favorite at Clark's Restaurant, Inc. in Seattle, Wash.

Another salad, quick and easy to prepare is a Tuna Waldorf Salad. Even a salad as simple as this one looks elegant when it is artistically arranged in the salad bowl.

Chef Richard Mack, captain of the U. S. Culinary Olympians Team, will be competing in the Concept in Food Show May 19-21 gives his recipe for Le Paillard De Veau, St. Laurent. Cakes of veal are stuffed with chopped mushrooms and shallots and browned in butter. Served with glazed onion and green peas and sautéed potatoes it provides a quickly prepared meal.

Chef Louis L. Shashany, executive vice president of Lou D'Or, Inc. and owner of The Bakery Restaurant and The Cava, has designed the recipe for Dover Sole in White Wine and Peach Fin as examples of the many food ideas available to the homemaker at the Concept in Food-1968 Show.

DOVER SOLE IN WHITE WINE

- 2 pounds Dover sole fillets or white fish fillets, fresh or frozen
- 2 cups thinly sliced cooked potatoes
- 1 can (4 ounces) sliced mushrooms, drained
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup sour cream
- 1/4 cup dry white wine
- 1/4 tablespoon ground onion
- Chopped parsley

Wash frozen fillets. Skin fillets and cut into serving-size portions. Arrange potatoes in a 12 1/2 x 8 x 8 inch pan. Top with mushrooms. Combine paprika, salt and pepper. Sprinkle half of seasoning over potatoes and mushrooms. Combine sour cream, wine, flour, and onion. Spread half of cream mixture over mushrooms. Top with fish. Sprinkle fish with remaining seasoning and spread with remaining cream mixture in mushrooms. Bake at 350 degrees F. for 35 to 45 minutes or until fish flakes easily when tested with a fork. Remove from oven and let stand 10 minutes for easier serving. Sprinkle with parsley. Serves 6.

PEACH PLAN

- 2 cups sliced nectarines
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1/4 cup butter, slightly softened
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs yolk
- 2 cups (1 lb. can) sliced peaches
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 2 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- Cornstarch jelly glaze
- 50 1/2 cups flour into mixing bowl. Make a well in center; add 2 tablespoons sugar, butter, salt and egg yolk. Make a smooth paste of center ingredients and mix with fork into flour. Wrap in wax paper and chill until firm, about 30 minutes. Place flour ring on ungreased baking sheet. Put pastry dough down into ring, pressing it along sides and bottom. Combine 2 tablespoons sugar, flour and cinnamon, sprinkle over peach slices and mix lightly.
- Place fruit in unbaked shell, arranging top layer to form a spoke design. Place on lowest rack of preheated 350 degree oven. Bake 50 to 55 minutes, or until well done. Remove from oven, brush with hot Currant Jelly glaze. Cook Currant Jelly Glaze: 1/4 cup currant jelly, 2 teaspoons brandy flavoring. Heat jelly until boiling; stir in flavoring.

EGGS STUFFED WITH SMOKED FISH

- 1 pound smoked fish
- 12 hard-cooked eggs
- 1/2 teaspoon onion or salad dressing
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 tablespoons lemon juice
- 2 teaspoons prepared mustard
- 1/4 cup pepper
- Paprika
- Remove skin and bones from fish. Flake the fish. Remove shells from eggs. Cut egg in half lengthwise and remove the yolks. Force yolks through a fine sieve. Combine all ingredients. Except egg whites and paprika. Fill egg whites with fish mixture. Sprinkle with paprika. Chill. Makes 24 appetizers.

Ad Exec Proposes Soft-Sell to Get USA Accepted

You have a good product. You want to sell it. It's been tested and approved by experts. It does the job it's claimed to do. Nobody wants to buy it. How do you move it off the shelves into the consumer's hands?

YOU ADVERTISE. It's your job. You persuade people to buy it. Sometimes you even give away free samples. You tie it with bonus offers, prizes, giveaway stunts.

It will do me well. What's lacking? You are sure that once it's been tried and used, it will be universally accepted and sales will zoom skyward. But sales stay at zero.

RAD TO SAY, overseas sales of the American idea have not been zooming up. They are not a far zero everywhere, true, but they are not in the category.

What's to be done to remedy the situation? According to one advertising pro, Arthur Meyerhoff, the right kind of soft sell by ad-men dedicated to the American creed who are tops in the field could help them the old war of "acceptance" of one way of life.

ONE PROPOSAL suggests a trial run of an ad man working with government leaders in a foreign country to find the right way to get our message across to the natives so that they can see for themselves the value and beauty of what America stands for. Two thoughts immediately come to mind. Any earnest theory aimed at improving the way we are viewed in other lands deserves acceptance.

The first realistic reaction, however, is that it's a big question if any government committed to an anti-American attitude would even admit such a dedicated group of expert ad-men who might direct popular thinking to a more favorable "consumer acceptance" of America.

The second reflection is that if Meyerhoff's premise is correct, that the work of winning American friends in other lands has been hampered by a poorly-chosen batch of professionals, then it's arguable that we review the Voice of America broadcasts, the work of the U. S. Information Service, and similar media used for presenting our side of the case.

IF THE COLD war is being waged by foreign opponents victoriously, because they are adept at using words to win their points, then Meyerhoff's proposal, that we throw in our first team of professionals, makes sense.

Let them be warned before they undertake the task of selling the American idea that it will not be enough to offer clever techniques, adroit phrasing, and strong emotional appeal. With America itself as their client, with our way of life the product to be presented, there will never be greater need for truth-in-advertising to be the dominant factor, as they use their skills to improve foreign attitudes to us.

St. Viator 'Voice' Wins Annual Student Council Elections

St. Viator High School of Arlington Heights held its annual student council elections Tuesday for the 1968-1969 school year. After vigorous campaigning, the "voice" ticket won over the "think" ticket.

The "voice" ticket consisted of Mark Abate of Palestine for president; Larry Quinten of 2202 Central, Rolling Meadows, for vice president; Pete McClell of Harrison for secretary; and Mark Walinski of Des Plaines for treasurer.

THEY RAN on the platform of a need for increased school spirit at St. Viator. To accomplish this, they said there is a need for involvement of the total of the whole school body. Many of the ideas suggested consisted of a junior-senior Trips, senior lounge, fresh sports activities, and awards and others that will involve the student.

Lois-patty, "think", was composed of Steve Linger of Palestine running for president; Danny Foreman of 636 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights, for vice president; Herb Kane of 402 W. South, Arlington Heights, for secretary; and Jim Bapton of 329 S. Burton, Arlington Heights, for treasurer.

THEIR PLATFORM advocated student involvement through a better structured council. They felt that it stands now there is no communication between the council and the students.

To correct the situation a student information program which would have done three things: have a small program before the Wednesday afternoon announcements that would recap the day's meeting; a vote of confidence at semester to judge all homeroom representatives; more class meetings.

Other programs can be successful if there was a better communication between student and council. Students would bring their ideas forth.

AN OPEN question and answer period was conducted for two days in the cafeteria. The purpose was to have each party explain its platform. At the end of the second day, both candidates for president were asked questions by Mr. Robert Given, teacher of English, over the public address system.

The Harper student newspaper, "The Harbinger," has been polling student opinions for the past five months. The largest count was received from the 1,700 stu-

'Under Milkwood' At Elk Grove High

Elk Grove High School students rehearse in "Under Milkwood," to be presented Friday, Saturday and Sunday in the Little Theater at 8 p.m. A Sunday matinee will also be presented at 2:30. ## Harper 'Harbinger' Polls Students

After eight months of criticism, the Harper College student body is beginning to unify and establish a climate of opinion.

The Harper student newspaper, "The Harbinger," has been polling student opinions for the past five months. The largest count was received from the 1,700 student body on the question of marriage. Thirty-three percent of the students are in favor of legalizing marriage, while 23 percent are in favor of it.

The students proved to be very liberal minded on the question of inter-racial dating. 300 approve it and 142 disapprove it.

Thirty hundred and forty two votes were cast in the presidential poll. One hundred and the remainder of the academic twenty students voted for President Johnson, while 76 voted for Nixon. Contrary to the draft-burning craze in college campuses across the country, 70 percent of the students are in favor of serving in Vietnam. The projection is based on a total of 259 votes cast.

The Harbinger will continue polling student opinion the remainder of the academic

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar. 21) - If you fail to conquer your personal problems in the morning, you will stay with you through the day.

ARIES (Mar. 22 - Apr. 20) - The mischiefs of yesterday must not be repeated so measure what the effort you must put forth to prevent them.

"I see you're back from a... suck driving expedition. A Constant Reader. Isn't that a top drawing of rare sea help
on your tonight?"

"It's a wig, I suppose an explanation is in order."
"Well, I'm usually rare as struck in just now, can you blame me for displaying a mild attack of nervous tension at the spectacle? And why the wig?"

"You know how I react to the current scene like a telemagnum. I've been watching TV and then today
I saw happened to pass the best television and then I was this sign in the window."

"What TV got to do with you wearing a wig, - or for that matter what was on the sign?"

"Any student of the dramatic eye of Big Brother in the living room can tell you how more and more show his people are making up for their lavas on their trophies."

"I mean they're wearing no-on-rug, followed to rebuild that youthful aspect beloved by their fans? And what did the sign say?"

"Well, right here in beautiful downtown of our community - I almost said
'beach' - I was stopped in my tracks by this placard."

"Bye! Keep America
Beautiful! Get a Haircut!"

"But you didn't get a haircut. You got a wig. That is a wig, right? It's not a discreet mop or a molting
lion's wig?"

"Yes, you see, I don't exaggerate what special preference people in the lively are should be allowed when it comes to improving their appearance. And I also agree with the hairbrush sign that every effort should be made to brighten up our national

... with George Hamilton

"Then you think that the semblance of miscellaneous
filibustering is the way to helping dispel some of the unpleasant aspects of all about us?"

"Oh, yes. Chiefly because it will probably achieve its result
by working in reverse."

"What does that mean?"

"The honest observers of today's youth have recently
stand that as soon as older,
more mature persons accept certain words and phrases and start using them, the hipster and flipper and snigger and conforming adobe like a longer rate such phrase as 'wig'
and they drop them from their own jargon. 'Wig' is as the way out, also 'read if' and a whole new Hippityhapp has been published to keep the 'wig'
vocabulary."

"Hippityhapp? You mean Noah Webster has been absorbed into the movement?"

"True. And it is the Bessie Smith by the way it generalize the meaning of
wig."

"All this leaves me baffled.
Wait, I think I've got it. You mean if you and others of your age group appear on the scene wearing those unbecoming shaggy hair-tops, the young crowd will walk to the nearest hair-cutter?"

"That's the plan. In order to be as general as possible and, therefore, they have no choice but to do the reverse of what we're doing."

"I have a better suggestion
on how you can further the
'Keep America Beautiful' movement. Will you take my advice?"

"I agree here."

"Good. Cover your wig with your hat and wear it
the way home. Tomorrow, lose the wig."

What Keeps Police Busy? Here's What

The monthly report to Arlington Heights Village Manager, L. A. Hanson, submitted by Police Chief L. W.
Caldwell, contains more than enough statistics on incidents reported to police.

Chief Caldwell said that
Sgt. Joseph O'Connell has

Friendly Stranger" to schools, a PTA group and a Cub Scout pack. The film has been viewed by 4,705 pupils and 219
adults. It is to warn children about the dangers of talking to strangers.

A six-week recent training course is being offered by the Northwest Police Academy in Arlington Heights. It began this month.

During April, 22 burglaries were "cleared" by investigation and arrest, and the arrest of St. Victor High School and the arrest of a bare on Central Rd. also were cleared by arrest.

BY BETSY BROOKER

Objections of 1,000 taxpayers to the Carl Sandburg Junior College District are threatening the Illinois Junior College Act.

The protesting residents
petitioned the state junior college board for disincorporation from District 518 because, according to their attorney, Lewis Murphy, "they are and to pay enormous sums for an inferior education."

THE COST per student to taxpayers in District 518 is now $4,700 per year and will rise to $6,800. The district includes the following central western Illinois counties:
Knox, Warren, Henderson,

Mercur, Stark and Fulton.

Their request for disan-cipation was refused by the state board.

Because the Illinois Junior College Act does not provide for a protesting party to appeal beyond the state junior college board, the District 518
residents must either pay their taxes or try to change
state law.

They choose the latter.

UNDER THE count of Louis Angel and Lewis
Murphy, the group submitted a complaint to the state attorney and attorney general.
These officials refused to file
the complaint under their name. The complaint will be filed again, as a private body,

In behalf of the people of Illinois in the Warren County Judicial Circuit Court.

The main charge in the complaint is that the Junior College Act is unconstitutional because it has no provision for justice.

Another point in the complaint is that, "named wards of currently organized junior college districts vary
in cost from $1,500 to $11,
$17,000,000 at Harper College to a low of $30,755.50 at South Eastern Illinois Junior College."

THE SUIT says, "Can the state be a party to a symphony where the quality of education depends on whether a student is a resident of a 'rich' district or a 'poor' district."

It is the word of State Junior College Board Attorney Alvin Frank. "They want to destroy the junior college districts for the board in Kankakee County."

The suit has affected all of the junior college districts in the state.

Until it is resolved and the constitutionality of the Junior College Act is established, the Chicago bonding authority, Chapman & Collier, is not validating any junior college
bonds.

JUNIOR COLLEGES must pay 25 per cent of their building fund expenses

through the sale of bonds.
Construction is curtailed at all colleges and not all of their bonds before the lawsuit was filed.

In order to get construction
moving again, the Illinois
association of Community and Junior College (IACJC) has asked the State Board of Education to determine the constitutionality of the junior college law.

It was hoped by the IACJC
that the Kankakee lawsuit would be settled more quickly than the State Board lawsuit,
and perhaps more favorably
for the junior colleges.

The Kankakee suit was filed April 19 in the Circuit Court of Kankakee County by State Attorney Edward P.
Drobnick in the name of the people.

ACCORDING to Donald Zagla, attorney for the Junior College Board, "Judge Victor
Cardell of Circuit Court
District 12 took the Kankakee case under advisement May 16."

Up until this point Harper Junior College had not been involved. The college had all of its bonds sold and its construction contracts signed before the issue came.

Last week the Harper College Board of Education received a letter from James Brown, executive director of the IACJC, asking that Harper bring the legal fees
of the Kankakee lawsuit.

Total cost of the suit is estimated at $8,000 to $10,000.

THE IMMEDIATE
reaction of board members
upon hearing the news at a meeting last Thursday (May 9) was reluctance to pay, although after some discussion all of the members voted to make the $400 contribution.

Board president Richard Johnson commented, "I don't understand this. If we had a law suit I think our board would go to the IACJC
to pay legal fees."

In full agreement, members of the board said they would fight their own lawsuit.

"I think this assessment is kind of high-handed," added member James Hamill.

The final common sense of opinion was that since the sum of $400 was not that high, it would be easier to go ahead and pay it.

The Future Will Not Wait

BY THE REV. JACK E. FROHN

And still the future speeds

In the name of God,

The message of Christ is as meaningful today as it was 2000 years ago or as it will be for the years to come. But the message must be studied and used and applied if it is to benefit our mankind. If it is forgotten or denied we will wander down the trail of agony and despair. The future will not wait another 20 years for another generation to stand anew.

Christ has left the decision to you! It is you who must make the decision whether to study and learn what has been given in Christ's first life. The choice is yours - The Future Will Not Wait.

but then, this isn't a very serene world. Unitarian Universalists are concerned people. They work for the cause of brotherhood six days a week, and worry on Sunday. People say our church services are stimulating, provocative, controversial ... and beautiful, too. But never serene, never sleepy. If you've had about all the serenity you can take, perhaps you'd like to try our kind of worship. Why not come by next Sunday?

Scout '1-Timer' Admits Camping Experience Fun

BY ROBBIE PEAT

To be perfectly honest, I was not overjoyed about being a Scoutmaster for the Girl Scout overnight at Camp Reinberg. Nobody had talked me into it. I had merely been asked by my daughter if I would like to go.

After checking with my daughter to be sure that she had no preconceived knowledge of the out-of-doors was required and that there would be cabins to sleep in, I said I would go.

Down deep in my soul I knew I said yes because of guilt feelings. I had never been a Scout leader because of my own smaller children at home, working, or other commitments. At least that is what I told myself and others. The truth is, I just didn't want to do it. Perhaps that is why I always find myself volunteering for these "one-shot" deals. I like to feel that I do my part.

THE PREPARATIONS were not as difficult as I had feared. It was a no-brainer, bringing the food. All I had to do was bring my own necessities.

Borrowing a sleeping bag was easy. I scrounged through my wardrobe to find my most well-worn clothing. My daughter informed me that she had always wanted to be a mouse and knew what goes on when the grown-ups are everything rolled up in the sleeping bag. So I threw out half of what I intended to take.

I rolled up the rest and checked just a little by taking my "favorite" "every" everything" piece in which I stuffed maps, toothbrush, tissue, and flashlight along with my regular ingredients. I wanted the girls to think I was a real camper. I couldn't have worried. Some of the girls came burdened with

Spread on slices of melon or slices of watermelon, served with crackers or potato chips.

Gore Holds Area Hopes In State Golf

Andy Gore of St. Victor will be the only area representative in the state golf tournament that was scheduled to begin this morning at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

Gore was one of six players who shot 72 in district competition last weekend. Chris Hansen of Homewood-Pleasanton and Jim Morano of Bergen of Peoria each shot a 70 for the low district individual scores, while two others posted 71s.

Homewood-Pleasanton and MacArthur of Decatur both had team totals of 299, to tie for low aggregate score, while defending champion New Trier East of Winnetka didn't qualify for the final.

Tell of Chicago had the highest district score of any of the qualifying teams, a 349. Tell's Dave Moore, who shot 80, made the final on the highest score of any individual making the final.

A second round will follow in the final tomorrow, starting at 8 a.m.

Game Reset

The Prospect-Forest game for the championship of the Prospect district of the state basketball tournament, rescheduled because of an element weather yesterday, will be played this afternoon at 4:30.

Both Forest View and Prospect had Mac-Sheridan league games scheduled for this morning but will meet at Forest View to finish Forest Saturday morning, but the Prospect-Arlington game has not been rescheduled as yet, according to league coach Larry Polman.

He said that it would probably be played the week of May 21.

Y Gymnasts Swing In May, Win 1 Title

For the Northwest Suburban YMCA gymnastics team, May is a month to remember. At the state YMCA girls meet at Indian Trail School in Addison May 11, the Northwest entry captured first place for the third year in a row.

THE BOYS' team enjoyed almost as much success, taking a state second at Monmouth, Illinois May 2.

Both squads beat their competition easily in the Chicagoland championships in April.

Miss Robin Melis, 12, Homewood, Mount Prospect, 14-year-old freshman at Forest View High School, led the Northwest Suburban girls' team in scoring, taking first in the state in all-around, a feat which she accomplished before. In addition, Miss Melis placed first in the vaulting, uneven parallel bars, and tumbling competition.

Teammate Nancy Morra of Prospect Heights grabbed the third place medal in vaulting, and Martha Seitz of Arlington Heights also scored for the juniors.

THE PREP division of the entry from Northwest Suburban also took the crown in the 11-12 year-old competition. Kim Lottner of Mount Prospect took a second on the balance beam and placed third in tumbling, free exercise, uneven parallel bars, and all-around events to lead the group to their victory.

Ann Marie Birk took a top on trampoline, and Joyce Lehnert and Debbie Schwartz, both of Des Plaines, finished in the top six in all of their individual events.

Jim Richards of Mount Prospect gathered the most medals for the Northwest in individual events (13-17 years old). She placed third in the uneven bars, one scoring but not receiving medals in vaulting, parallel bars, and tumbling.

THE MIDGETS, girls 10 years and under, won the top of 27 points, although Joyce Morra of Prospect Heights led the only medalist in the Northwest Suburban Y. The placed third in the vault, the uneven bars, and the tumbling. Teammates Karen Benasini, De Plaines, and Candy Benasini, Prospect Heights, and Judy Lenhart, Mount Prospect, also triumphed other points to the midgut effort.

5 Cardinals, Allare Battle In Tennis

Arlington's High School's clay tennis squad will be looking for a state championship with a five-man force in the finals scheduled to begin this morning at the University of Illinois in Champaign.

St. Victor's strong left-hander, John Allare, will be this area's only other representative in the finals, having earned the only spot the Cardinals didn't gobble up in their district meet.

THE PLAYER Allare lost to in the district singles final, Arlington's curly Bill Von Boeckmann, was on the doubles team that took second in the final last year in the Cards took third in the state.

Von Boeckmann will be the singles champion among the left arm could take them, were runner-up Hinsdale Central.

Chicago are the only teams to make the final, and all five teams also made the final.

The Cards' two doubles team, Ken Jorgensen-Greg Harris and Bill Seeling-John Severe, will have to get by the Cards' Roy Hart and Lewiston, who lost in the 1967 semifinals.

Mark Bishop of Niles-East, Jerry Stocker of Hinsdale Central, and Mike Madura of Evanston are the Cards' main threats in the singles competition.

Winning's baseball Wildcats, having gone as far as Jim Muthaussen's team in the district open Monday, came down from the state tournament Thursday by 11-1 loss to Highland Park in the first round.

slipped despite a heavy-swung pitch in the sixth. And he got sent to his hitting support from his teammates, who singled only two hits and left runners on base.

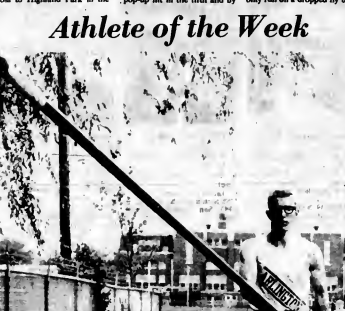

The Wildcats scored their only run on a dropped fly ball,

Robb Metzler leading a line single to right leading off the fifth, moving to third on the hit. Highland Park center fielder George Abraham muffed Gary Salin's pop fly with two out.

The run looked big, with Muthaussen working on a no-hitter - thanks to the official's error of an error in Salin of Art Elliott's hard-hit fourth-inning double.

With two out in the Giant fifth, however, shortstop Pete Phillips booped a single into short center, second, and came home when catcher Doug Rosinski drove a single off Wildcat first baseman Dave Powell's glove into right field.

It's Time For Leaf-Eaters

An army of chomping and sucking insect enemies is about to launch its annual invasion. From now to midsummer, cankerworms, caterpillars, aphids, lace bugs, webworms, leaf miners, and mites or red spiders will begin attacking the leaves of valuable shade

Is the invasion serious? Consider the spring or fall cankerworms, sometimes called inchworms or measuring worms. In some places they appear in such abundance that they become a serious threat to such trees as oak, elm, hickory, maple, cherry, apple, linden, or birch trees. They can defoliate trees over a wide area, satisfying their voracious appetites and when mature or disturbed, dropping to the ground on tiny threads

Trees suffering severe and repeated attacks by leaf-eating insects may die since leaves manufacture essential plant foods, utilizing raw materials from the soil and air. This food then moves back through the inner bark to feed all the living plant cells. Thus, damage to leaves impairs the life processes of a tree by cutting off or limiting the food supply.

WHAT CAN be done to control these infestations? A Davey Tree Expert Co. plant pathologist, Henry Gilbertson, reports that foliage spray programs are the best answer. The commonly used insecticides provide effective control of cankerworms if properly applied. Practically any beetle, grub, or caterpillar which eats the surface of a leaf can be controlled by spray applications of malathion or other insecticides.

Feeding habits, however, differ so greatly that knowledge of the life history of the specific insect is essential if control is to be successful. Elm leaf beetle larvae, for example, feed on the underside of leaves, and spray applications should be made with this in mind. The tent caterpillar begins to feed almost before there is any leaf surface, while other insects do not appear until leaf growth is established.

Some insecticides may prove to be more effective than others in controlling leaf eaters, especially where the young hatch over a prolonged period. Treatments, therefore

SPRAYING for spruce g aphids and gall mites is usually done before the buds open. Spraying for cankerworms and tent caterpillars, conversely, is most effective later in the spring, when small worms start feeding on new leaves. Seasonal variation and geographical location prohibit prediction of exact spray dates, and spray programs must be adjusted to wind and weather conditions.

Since severe infestations occur in cycles, tree men can predict the magnitude of the threat in advance of leaf growth by observing such signs as the abundance of egg clusters on limbs. Cankerworm infestations may be damagingly severe for several years, and then virtually disappear for two or three years before the onslaught begins anew.

Now more than ever, shade trees are recognized as a vital natural resource, and spray programs to protect them are growing increasingly important. Accelerated travel and commerce have introduced new leaf enemies in the past several decades. Mimosa webworm, now causing heavy damage to mimosa and honeylocust trees, was unknown in the U. S. prior to 1942.

The message to tree owners and tree lovers everywhere: watch for signs of the arrival of these insect enemies and consult a reputable arborist for effective and safe control.

A Salute
to our
MEN IN SERVICE

Supplement to

Day Publications, Inc.
FRIDAY, MAY 17, 1968

To the men who are serving our country throughout the world, protecting its ideals and institutions in the tradition of true Americans, we dedicate this special supplement of The Day.

THIS DIRECTORY OF ARMED SERVICE MEN & WOMEN FROM THE NORTHWEST SUBURBAN AREA IS MADE POSSIBLE BY THE BUSINESS FIRMS AND OTHER SPONSORS LISTED HEREIN IN COOPERATION WITH DAY PUBLICATIONS.

Our Flag and Country ... First!

Armed Forces Day and Memorial Day. Two days so closely related that we honor them both at one time during this month of May. Armed Forces Day is a salute to all the branches of the Armed Forces as they "present arms" to the nation. And Memorial Day honors all the millions who died fighting to protect the land, the people, the freedom and the ideals that our Flag and our Country represents. We ask ... and urge ... that you fly the flag on these days--and other days designated. It's the least we can do to return the salute of the people who give ... and who gave ... so much of themselves for us.

500

Our own automotive event is tied-in with the internationally famous Indy 500 which is staged annually on May 30. Visit us during this specially sponsored selling spectacle.

A Heritage of Outstanding Service

Since the time of our independence, whenever the country has had call for protection in conflict, the need has been unselfishly answered by our service men and women.

During this time, our armed forces have proven what the world has always known, that American people are fast to answer the call to colors ... a heritage of outstanding service to the country.

In our salute to the services with a special salutation to our own area service people, we hope to touch on our own heritage of outstanding service ... to the community and the people.

We're proud of our heritage of service, starting in 1911 and continuing every day to make your banking more pleasant, convenient and personally fruitful to you.

Life,
Liberty
and the pursuit of Happiness

These were the inalienable rights that our founding fathers believed in and fought for at Lexington and Concord ... These are the rights that Americans still believe and are fighting for today.

Not all men enjoy the rights and privileges that are our heritage—men still live in oppression in many parts of the world. And to those peoples who seek to preserve their freedom America has dedicated its strength.

Let us pause this day to honor our men and women in service who have and still fight the battle for freedom. And let us rededicate ourselves to the principles for which they strive.

THE RETURN OF THE # SQUARE

In this day and age, being a SQUARE means that you are probably doing your job . . . holding up your end of the bargain . . . or, not "going along with the crowd".

We at V & G Printers would like to take this opportunity to congratulate all of the "SQUARES" in our Armed Forces . . . they are really "SQUARE" and we're proud of every one of them. Most of us here at our shop knew WW II . . . or Korea . . . and one of the boys remembers Siberia of WW I. We are the old "SQUARES" and just for the record - we're proud of that too.

If being a SQUARE today is not "In", then most of the young people of today are "Out". We believe that being SQUARE is coming back into style. Most of our returning Veterans are going to be SQUARE, and they are going to be the leaders of this country very soon . . . so here at V & G, we look forward to welcoming these SQUARES anytime.

"The Return of the Square", by Charles H. Brower, Chairman of the Board, Batten, Barton, Durstine and Osburn, Inc., is available from V & G by just calling at our office for a free copy.

It's a great little booklet to include in that next letter to YOUR SQUARE in service.

FOR

ARMY MAY 18

We're proud to salute the courageous men of our armed forces for strength, patriotic purpose, stature on this day when they "present arms" to the nation.

Time To Remember Who
We Are

Let us be grateful for our heritage. For a little pride is the wellspring of courage. Let us endure unflinchingly whatever sacrifices we are called upon to make to defend our free institutions from the night of communism, which is bent on undermining our faith in ourselves. Let us rely not only on the gold in our vaults, but the iron in our blood. And let us cling like ivy to the faith of our fathers until, in God's good time, all men are free.
